Hi Scott,

I hope you are doing as well as possible under the circumstances.

Please find attached a demand letter regarding the outstanding invoices under our signed contract and Purchase Order PO 250801, including a proposed payment plan intended to make this manageable given the current situation.

We would appreciate it if you could review the attached letter and reply by latest December 25th.

Thank you, and we look forward to resolving this constructively.

Best regards
Mehrdad

Hi Mehrdad,

I know the lack of response has been frustrating. I'm currently not able to share details, but there are ongoing discussions that could impact how outstanding invoices are handled. I'll follow up as soon as there's clarity.

Best, Scott

Hi Mehrdad,

I want to update you on the current state. Unfortunately, the discussions I referenced previously did not result in a transaction. The company is insolvent, no longer operating, and has no remaining cash or assets of any kind—only liabilities. As such, there is no mechanism by which accounts payable or the company's debt obligations can be satisfied. Moving forward, I will not be able to provide further updates or engage on company matters.

Hi Scott,

That's very unfortunate to hear, but I know you as a respectable man, and despite everything others may say, I trust there was nothing else that could be done.

Then it's my loss!

Thanks for the update anyway.

Best

Mehrdad
